Find the Test that is Right for YOU

Our consumer-friendly lab provider lists available tests on their website in three different ways.

Tests by Name: Tests are listed by the COMMON NAME used by the medical community. This is designed to be used by our customers who know the specific test(s) they need. If you have individual tests ordered by your doctor, you can find them listed alphabetically. You may also use the SEARCH box located on the website to find any test offered both individually and in our Wellness Profiles.

Tests by Category: Tests are grouped together by what "Body System" they evaluate (i.e.: thyroid, heart, etc.). If you are looking for an evaluation of a specific problem or condition, use this list to see ALL the testing we provide for its evaluation.

Testing Profiles: (Wellness Profiles) Options are listed in group categories based on AGE, SEX, and FAMILY HISTORY. These profiles include the most comprehensive mix of tests tailored to your specific needs. As the profiles get more specific (ex. Male or Female, Under 40 or Over 40) we include additional tests proven to evaluate the common health problems associates with each age group and family history.

Here's how it works: Order and purchase your test(s) then have your blood sample drawn at one of the over 2,000 CLIA Certified Lab Patient Service Centers (collection sites) nationwide.

- No prior doctor visit is required to order routine testing.
- The testing fee includes the full services of an Ordering Physician in your state.

You can access the laboratory program via Internet or national call center.

Save an additional 10% off our already low price when you order your testing online.

Introducing the General Health Screen

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Even with all the new treatment options available today, none can match the huge benefits of early detection. Many chronic conditions like Heart Disease and Type II Diabetes, if detected early, can be controlled by changes in lifestyle BEFORE they ever develop into significant health problems.

Smart consumers today are taking charge of their routine health using the same technology, once only available to doctors, to identify potential problems early.

- Diagnostic testing and screening is fast becoming an essential tool for wellness, prevention and early detection in the basic management of one's healthcare.
- Our blood is the roadmap to what is happening inside our body. Diagnostic testing allows physicians to detect disease early, diagnose, prescribe therapies and monitor for successful results. If something is going wrong and we discover it early (prevention), our chances of a successful outcome are greatly enhanced.

The General Health Screen (GHS) consists of 30 individual test profiles and is considered to be the foundation that all our other profiles are built around.

The GHS evaluates your overall health and risk for common conditions like:

- Diabetes (Blood Sugar)
- Heart Disease
- Bone Health
- Kidney Disease
- Metabolism Problems
- Liver Problems
- Iron Levels
- High Cholesterol
